Father's Day Is Over, But These 3 Fragrances Will Make Dad Happy All Year Round

From a refreshing spritz of summer to the olfactory equivalent of a power suit.

Just because their titular holiday has come and gone doesn't mean it's not a good time to help the father—or father figure—in your life find a great fragrance. After all, dads are people, too, and a well-selected cologne can serve a variety of purposes—even in the life of someone busy with the business of raising a child. From refreshing potions that can help soothe his frazzled nerves to a distinctive scent that might give him a competitive edge at the office, the best fragrances for dads work as hard as the guys who wear them. Below, a look at three of our favorite father-friendly scents that he'll appreciate on Father's Day, Christmas, Hanukah, Boxing Day, his birthday and every day in between.

Creed Green Irish Tweed

If Gordon Gekko were bottled into a high-end men's eau de parfum, the result would undoubtedly be Green Irish Tweed. This Creed fragrance, which is almost as famous as the brand's beloved Aventus cologne, was released in the 1980s—a time when many people were acquiring wealth. Accordingly, it's as rich as that period in history. This eau de parfum is replete with notes of Florentine iris, lemon, verbena and violet leaves. Its freshness, which dries down into a soapy place reminiscent of a gentlemanly barbershop, makes it versatile and well-balanced. The dad who knocks it out of the park at home and at work will appreciate it.
